

The Center for Jewish Studies at Harvard University invites you to apply for

J-term and Spring Semester 2017 Research Fellowships for Harvard Undergraduate and Graduate Students

The Center for Jewish Studies at Harvard University has limited funds available to support qualified Harvard University undergraduate and graduate students in Jewish studies with a J-term research opportunity.

To apply please submit the following to the CJS office:

- an application form (available on our Website at <http://cjs.fas.harvard.edu>);
- a research proposal (about one page) describing the nature of your research project and your reasons for wanting to conduct it;
- an itemized budget (which may include economy travel, basic research expenses, basic housing and living expenses);
- letter of recommendation from a faculty member overseeing your project.

Deadline: Monday, November 21, 2016

CONTACT US:

Center for Jewish Studies
Harvard University
6 Divinity Avenue
Cambridge, MA 02138
(617) 495-4326 • cjs@fas.harvard.edu
facebook.com/CenterforJewishStudies
Twitter - @HarvardCJS